

THE REPUBLICAN HERITAGE PROJECT

Birthplace of the Republican Party

Now is your opportunity to own this fine heirloom print, enhanced by a coveted memento of the inauguration of the 43rd president of the United States, George W. Bush.

WITH EACH noble achievement of the Grand Old Party on behalf of a great nation, remembering our humble origin in Ripon, Wisconsin, becomes more important. THE REPUBLICAN HERITAGE PROJECT is proud to present an exclusive, limited edition lithograph honoring this historical event. The original work created by Kentucky artist, A. Jack May, depicts the little schoolhouse where 53 men met and organized what was destined to be known as the Republican Party. The day was March 20, 1854. Alvin Earl Bovay of Ripon had previously met with Horace Greeley concerning the formation of a new political party. He suggested the name "Republican Party," because he considered it "a good name...with charm and prestige." That charm has been captured for your visual enjoyment by the artist based on his travels to the preserved site.

Symbolizing the prestige of the party on the eve of the GOP's sesquicentennial, an item you will want to display with pride is incorporated—a reproduction of the elegant invitation to the inauguration of President George W. Bush.

Own this handsome 30" x 30.5" display

Your acquisition of this distinctive collectible will provide years of admiration by family, friends, and associates. At the same time, you have the satisfaction of helping to elect Republican candidates.

And more, including an actual souvenir packet from the January, 2001 event, with portraits of the president and vice president, as well as two official 8x10 inaugural photos. One shows the swearing in at the U.S. Capitol; the other documents the first presidential signature of America's new leader, surrounded by our top Congressional Republicans.

Now you can be one of the first Republicans to celebrate 150 years of party growth and success. At the same time, you will acquire actual artifacts of the Bush presidency, certain to be highly sought collectibles by this country's patriots of tomorrow.

"We went into the little meeting Whigs, Free Soilers and Democrats. We came out Republicans, and we were the first Republicans in the Union," stated Bovay in his later life. Birthplace of the Republican Party is a reflection of that unity, which we still hold

dear today. This unique, prestigious heirloom is perfect as a gift, or for office, library, or home. With only 50 still available, you must act now to secure this treasured symbol as your own.

THE REPUBLICAN HERITAGE PROJECT IS DEDICATED TO ELECTING REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES.
